

Department of Physiology and Neurobiology
University of Connecticut

The Master's Thesis Defense of

Amanda S. Wildstein

B.S., University of Connecticut, 2016

Toward the Characterization of Mammalian Sterile20-like Kinase 3 (MST3) and the Conserved Herpesviridae
Protein Kinases (CHPKs) through Phosphorylation Motifs

Thursday, April 20, 2017

12:00 pm

Torrey Life Sciences Building Room 153
Storrs Campus

All interested faculty are invited to attend.

Major Advisor:

Daniel Schwartz, Ph.D.

Associate Advisor:

Joseph LoTurco, Ph.D.

Associate Advisor:

John Redden, Ph.D.